PLACE AN ORDER

Our team is working hard to market these products to Appalachian-based food suppliers and wholesale buyers, so that businesses inside this catalog can do what they do best— produce food! And buyers can do what they do best—sell food!

Since our work is limited to offering marketing assistance at this time, the best way to begin the order process is to contact each business directly, whose information can be found throughout the catalog. If you have questions about other products you would like to carry or ideas about promoting local food products in the region, give us a ring!

ORDER ACCURACY, FULFILLMENT RATE, AND SUBSTITUTIONS

Every business in the catalog strives for high order accuracy and fulfillment rates, although there may be times when shortages do occur. Contact the business directly to find out policies on back orders, expedited services, and compensation for outages, as well as products that will serve as like items when the ordered item is out of stock.

PRICES

Due to market fluctuations, prices are subject to change without notice. You will be provided with the most up to date prices when you place your order.

AROMA
OF THE ANDES

ABOUT US

From our Import & Roasting office in West Virginia, we manage our coffee farm, Finca La Despensa, located in Supatá, Colombia, South America. We purchased our 8 acre coffee farm in 2012 and since then visit it several times a year. We assist the Colombians working on the farm and ensure high standards and environmentally friendly farming methods are being implemented throughout the entire process of growing, harvesting, de-pulping, drying, and roasting of our Aroma of the Andes Specialty Coffee.

Because our farm is located at a high altitude in the Andes Mountains, the coffee bean is denser, more flavorful, and more unique! All of our coffee is shade grown, hand picked, and sun dried in Colombia. It’s then exported to West Virginia where we fire-roast our coffee in small batches for coffee-loving consumers like you.

When you purchase our products, you’re doing more than enjoying an awesome cup of coffee! You’re supporting our efforts to give back to the local community of Supatá, Colombia in the form of school supplies for an elementary school and food for elderly and low income families. Also, a percentage of all coffee sales go directly to supporting clean drinking water projects in the Amazon region of Colombia, Brazil, and Peru.

D.B. YUMMERS

ABOUT US

Taste the sweet tang of a Blue Ribbon winner. D.B. Yummers' famous BBQ sauce will take you back to the days of the County Fair. Try them on hot wings, in chili, or to spice up any dish. Choose from Sweet & Smoky, Mildly Spicy, or Island BBQ. Our sauces are preservative free, allergen free, gluten free, and naturally fat free.

The famous D.B. Yummers BBQ sauce was developed over fifteen years ago by Deb and Bill Diley at our restaurant Yummers in Washington Court House, Ohio. Because we had such big crowds on the weekends, we started having cook-outs every Friday and Saturday night to celebrate food, family, and friends. We really had a great time at Yummers and are thankful for the years we spent celebrating with our fantastic staff and loyal patrons. Although the restaurant is a distant memory, our customers just couldn't resist asking for our famous sauce. We decided to respond to the wonderful community that gave us so much joy over the years, and D.B. Yummers was born.

DOWN HOME SALADS

ABOUT US

Located in Harveytown, West Virginia, Down Home Salads resides in the lesser known outskirts of Huntington. Neatly tucked away and off the beaten path, it has become known as the “little store” for the locals in the neighborhood. Our customers include restaurants, grocery stores, retail markets, and farmers markets. We are known for our classic salad fixings such as potato salad, coleslaw, macaroni, and baked beans.

Our canned goods are manufactured in our own commercial kitchen using ingredients we source from regional farms in West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio at the peak of freshness to create products that are unique to Appalachia. Our candied jalapeños with ramps and salty brine pickles with ramps are very popular. We ship our canned goods all over the U.S. to customers longing for that “down home” flavor.

HERBAL SAGE TEA COMPANY

ABOUT US

Awaken your inner spirit with the taste of Herbal Sage tea! Each recipe has been blended naturally to sooth your soul and expand your mind. Only natural ingredients make their way into the flavor of Herbal Sage teas. We use organic ingredients whenever feasible, and seek growers with the best quality herbs, spices, and teas from around the world.

Herbal Sage Tea Company was created in 1996 with a simple mission—to create healthy tea blends that taste great using the finest ingredients available. We never use manufactured flavorings or extracts. Our herbs are also minimally cut so that more essential plant oils remain intact, which enhances both taste and the therapeutic qualities of each herb.

INTEGRATION ACRES

ABOUT US

Getting pawpaws to the people—that's what Integration Acres Ltd. has been doing since 1996, when we began by commercially offering freshly picked pawpaws. We even established the Ohio Pawpaw Festival!

At Integration Acres, our passion is to raise consciousness with cuisine. We help local growers and gatherers in the region make money from naturally growing pawpaws, while preserving them from destruction. We also work with forest farmers to harvest native spicebush berries, mushrooms, ramps and other forest-farmed crops, using agricultural techniques in harmony with nature. As an added bonus, we milk goats and make wonderful artisan cheeses.

SWEETGRASS SOUTHERN GRANOLA

ABOUT US

Ever since creating our original Sorghum Granola recipe in a remote Kentucky cabin, Sweetgrass has been a family affair. Since then, our family has made a couple of additions (Hello Finn & Ellie) but our granola has retained its hand-made attention to detail and unique locally grown and natural ingredients.

Sweetgrass Granola is truly a one of a kind product that presents the flavors of our old Kentucky home. We lightly sweeten our granola with sorghum syrup, a nutritional powerhouse and “maple syrup of the South.” We use local and organically grown ingredients, and refrain from refined sugars, gluten and GMOs. We can honestly say that you’ll have no other granola like Sweetgrass Granola.

TARBILLY'S

ABOUT US

Tarbilly's was created by Bobby Collins, born and raised in North Carolina. Bobby relocated to West Virginia in 1999, giving his sauce the name Tarbilly's as a combination of the "Tar Hill" state and West Virginia "Hillbillies". If you're looking for new flavor with a kick, Tarbilly's Grillin' Rub is what you are after. Tarbilly's is a blend of spices specifically tailored to add extra flavor to your meat and give it that extra kick. Combining the cultures of both North Carolina and West Virginia, rubs are made with the freshest and purest ingredients available to give it that extra kick of sweet, salt, and heat.

"Whether it walks on the land or swims in the sea. Everything taste better with Tarbilly's Grillin' Rub."

ABOUT THE PROJECT

The Central Appalachia Food Corridor represents the diverse agriculture and specialty food production in West Virginia, Southwest Virginia, Southeast Ohio, Eastern Kentucky and Western Tennessee. As organizations, entrepreneurs, and rural communities, our project partners have come together to rebuild an economy while respecting our small farm landscape, our food traditions and the perseverance of our people. With a commitment to innovation and abiding love for our Appalachian foodways, we are doing economic development differently. In their own words, the catalog's producers and processors share a common vision.

Our collaborative is comprised of three Appalachian-based food sector organizations who have come together to give people in economically distressed communities, many of which were coal dependent, more opportunities for meaningful work. The Central Appalachia Food Corridor will create sustainable jobs in local food production and distribution in West Virginia, Southwest Virginia, Southeast Ohio, Eastern Kentucky and Western Tennessee, primarily from connecting producers to wholesale and retail outlets searching for local products.

FUNDING SUPPORT

The Central Appalachian Food Corridor is made possible with generous investment from the Appalachian Regional Commission's (ARC) POWER Initiative. With a mission to innovate, partner, and invest to build community capacity and strengthen economic growth in Appalachia, the ARC is a regional economic development agency that represents a partnership of federal, state, and local government. Established by an act of Congress in 1965, it is composed of the governors of the 13 Appalachian states and a federal co-chair, who is appointed by the president.

POWER (Partnerships for Opportunity and Workforce and Economic Revitalization) is a multi-agency, congressionally funded initiative that targets federal resources to help communities and regions that have been affected by job losses in coal mining, coal power plant operations, and coal-related supply chain industries due to the changing economics of America's energy production. Through the POWER Initiative, the ARC has invested over $92 million specifically to diversify the economy in the Region's coal-impacted communities. These investments will create or retain almost 8,600 jobs, leverage an additional $206 million into the Region, and prepare more than 25,400 workers and students for jobs in technology, manufacturing, entrepreneurship, agriculture, and other sectors creating a strong economic future for Appalachia.
